AN ENGLISH AMATEUR OUTPLAYS

the preliminary medal round, with S. D. Bowers and L. E. Larocque, Jr., tied at eighty G. Stewart, the visiting amateur, is handicapped at plus two at his home club, Lytham and St. Anne's, England. He was third in the preliminary round yesterday, with eighty-three. In the following round, however, at match play, he best John Reid, Jr., the well-known Yale man, in hollow fashion, and made a record score of seventy-six. It was his first match in this

Those who started out with the idea that a short course must be an easy one found out their mistake before the end; for, although fron drives were unusually numerous, the links tested the competitors' game at all points. A brook makes fine hazard on the first, sixth, and seventeenth holes, and at the 172-yard ninth hole it forms a peol that makes a water carry of eighty yards necessary from the tee. Turf banks are the obstacles on the other holes. The line of play is narrow on the short holes and wild shots are badly punished. The course is on the banks of the Shrewsbury River, which, with the passing yachts and the villa-studded sand hills of the beach, form a picturesque background for the links. The red coats and plaid stockings of the golfers yesterday were somewhat incongruous amid such mari-time surroundings, but the sailor hats and white ak dresses of the pretty women about the clubhouse were nautical enough to make amends. Some in this "gallery" were Mrs. E. L. Kalbfleisch, Miss Alice Strong, Mrs. W. E. Strong, Mrs. Albert Symington, Mrs. Raymond Hoagland, Miss Grace Porter, and Mrs. Fred H.

Bowers lost a ball on the fifth hole by a wild trive and was stimled by a tree, after a long drive, on the eleventh hole. The two mishaps int for the two sixes on his card. Larocque had thirty-seven going out, the best of the morn-ing scores, but he did not make the homeward quite so well. Reid played consistently, while Stewart, who was seventy-five to the seventeenth hole, would easily have beaten sighty only for getting bally bunkered on a sliced mashie shot that followed a fine drive on the home hole. Edwards was penalised a stroke by an act of his caddle, who lifted his ball by a mistake. According to was lifted his ball by a mistake. According to the eard Edwards turned in he tied with Kim-hall for the sixteenth place, but the decision of the Greens Committee, to whom he had applied for a ruling on the above point, dropped Ed-wards into the second sixteen, to play for the Consolation Cup. Colgate, who tied with Hoag-land for entrance into the Consolation event, wen the play off. The scores for the preliminary round follow:

tion for the match play. Stewart furnished the sensation in the first round for the Seabright Cup. Reed won the first hole and halved the next two, but thereafter he could not win a hole. Stewart has a full swing in driving that is both beautiful and effective. He used the cleek with telling rower on the abort holes yesterday, and, with the exception of the one blunder on his medal play round, he was deadly on his approach shots. He drove over the water on the ninth hole with a mashle and nearly made the green. Stewart won by five up at the fifteenth hole. He played out for a score and made a new amateur record, which is within two strokes of the professional record held by Willie Norton. His card was: the New Yorks and Brooklyne Pall to Play Owing to the storm yesterday the game b tween the New York and Bostons was postponed The Brooklyns shared a similar fate at Phila delphia. NEWS OF THE WHEELMEN.

AMATEURS CANNOT COMPETE ON THE ROAD FOR CASH PRIEES.

The Racing Beard's Bulling Causes Consider able Criticism-Associated Cycling Clubs Plans for a Big Run to Philadelphin-Re Chairman Mott of the L. A. W. Racing Board has rendered an opinion in relation to the conduct of a 100-mile run which is provoking considerable criticism. The Keystone Wheelmen of Philadelphia had arranged to hold a century run on July 25. Among the prizes offered was $100 in gold for the club breaking the record for the greatest number of survivors, and a second prize of $10 in gold to the out-oftown club bringing through the greatest number of men. It seems the attention of the Racing Board was called to the matter, and the follow ing is its ruling: one who has never competed for a cash prize-competed for it, but not necessarily received the prize. He might not win, but he would become a professional by competing. A club team of amateurs cannot compete for a cash prize that goes to the club. Competition on the road for cash is the same, under the rules as on the track,"

The Associated Cycling Clubs of this city, Long Island, and New Jersey are preparing to hold a big century run to Philadelphia the first week in August to attend the national meet of the L. A. W. The route will be as follows: New York to Jersey City, to Newark, Elizabeth, lle, Cranford, Westfield, Fanwood, Plainfield, Metuchen, New Brunswick, Franklin Park, Kingston, Princeton, Lawrenceville, Trenton, Morrisville, Pa.; Tullytown, Bristol, Bridge water, Eddington, Torresdale, and Frankford to Philadelphia. The start will be at 6:15 o'clock in the morning from Jersey City. It is expected that several thousand riders will take propose to run the trial heats of their open ama-teur races at Manhattan Beach on next Saturday during the progress of the 100-mile profes sional race. Such a move, it is declared, will likely result in complications and perhaps disastrously to some of the racing men. In order to run off the 100-mile race in good shape, with a chance for new records, the club should start this event in the morning so that the finish will take place not later than 3 o'clock.

The reports of the condition of the roads received at the L. A. W. headquarters yesterday are as follows:

New York—Around this city the macedam and dirroads are in good condition. The Pelham road from Bartow is being macedamized, and will be finished in a few weeks. Wheelmen going northward will find Sedgwick avenue about the best riding, while to go east Madison avenue to 188th street, to Railroad avenue (just the other side of the N. Y. C. and H. R. R. R. tracks), to 165th street, right to Washington avenue, of Pelham avenue, affords good wheeling, being nearly all macedam, with grades easy. Through Fishkill Landing, Garrison, Hastings-on-Hudson, Haverstraw, Montgomery, Mount Vernon, New Rochelle, Sing Sing, Spring Valley, and Tarrytown the roads are in the order.

Long Island—The roads at Bath Beach, Far Rock-away, and Arverne are good. At Freeport, Glen Cove, Rockville Centre, and Whitestone the roads and side-paths are fair.

New Jersey—Around Englewood, Freehold, Keyport, Lakewood, Newark, New Brunswick, Orange, Plainfield, Princeton, Rahway, Roselle, Trenton, and Weber the roads are excellent.

Siaten Island—The macadam roads are good to excellent. Giffort's Lane and Richmond Terrace, between Port Richmond and Mariner's Harbor, are being realized.

cellent. Gifford's Lane and Richmond Terrace, between Port Richmond and Mariner's Harbor, are being repaired.

Racing, Wis., July 2.—Cooper tied the world's half-mile competition record to-day of 1 minute 4-5 second, held by Otto Ziegler, made on the quarter-mile coment track at New Orleans, June 13, 1898. Cooper won the race by a narrow margin from Bald, and the Judges were mixed as to the finish. Cooper jumped the bunch on the last lap, and Bald went after him, closing the gap. As the two men swung into the stretch he crept up close to Cooper's front, where, right at the tape, the two men swung into the stretch he crept up close to Cooper's front, where, right at the tape, the two men swung into the stretch he crept up close to Cooper's front, where, right at the tape, the two men were so close together that it was hard to tell which won. Bald and Cooper were never so evenly matched as they are to-day, and the fight between Bald and Cooper was a bitter one. The starters were Bald, Cooper, Mertens, Gardiner, Dr. Brown, Rob Walthour, and Nelson. Two men were put in to pace. The fight for pace was desperate. Cooper gained the position with Bald following. Walthour tried to go round the pacemaker, but failed in the attempt. Bald made a jump on his last lap on the backstretch and gained one open length on Cooper, who was in the lead of the field. Cooper put down his head and began to take in the slack on Bald. Entering the homestretch Cooper closed the gap and coming down the stretch Cooper closed the gap and coming down the stretch Cooper pulled up to Bald's side and the two men came tearing down the stretch like mad. They flashed over the tape in a dead heat and the 5,000 people present filled the air with their enthusiastic plaudits at the grand finish. Mertens was two open lengths back and defeated Gardiner by an open length. A. C. Mertens won the two-mile 'handicap from scratch in 4 minutes 10 2-5 seconds. Mertens held the pace maker from Schinneer down the sace head half. The first five miles were ridden in Half Mile, Professional—Cooper won; Bald second, Gardiner third. Time, I minute 4-5 second. One Mile, Amateur, State Champlonahip—C. Nuss, Milwaukee, won; Con Reinke, Milwaukee, second. Time, I minutes 20 1-5 seconds. Kleufer rode strong all the way, and might have done much better. rode strong all the way, and might have done much better.

Toronto, July 2.—The second day of the meet of the Canadian Wheelmen's Association at Chatham was even more of a success than the opening day. The weather was cooler, the track rather better, and the time was fast, although no records were broken. The feature of the day was the Cook's parade, a grotesque affair, demonstrating that wheelmen are about as much at home in masquerade on a wheel as one might expect to see in a ballroom. The absence of crack American riders is regretted. The speedy flyers across the line do not seem to care much for honors on the Canadian track. The century race will be the event of to-morrow. The results of the races to-day were:

H. Clark of the Boston A. A. He is the allround champion of the New England district, and the score he made in winning on June 19
last entitles him to serious consideration.
The contest is arousing unusual interest out West, and California will be represented by Charles S. Dole of Stanford University. He is admittedly the best all-round athlete on the Pacific slope and should make some of the Eastern stars blink.
The New York A. C., which founded this compotition, is naturally anxious to keep the winged foot in line, and it stands a great chance of sharing the spolls with such representatives available as Larkin and Bloss. The former has been several times within hall of the honors, although a comparative novice, and now after a course of sprouts at Travers Island he is likely to crowd the winner.
Altogether the contest promises to be more than The tradition that no yachtsman in American vaters can have the most speedy yacht for more than one year was proved again yesterday by he trip of Harrison B. Moore's newest Marietta. which on her first speci trial ran ahead of the noted side-wheeler Mary Powell. The new yacht was not in racing trim by any means. Her Altogether the contest promises to be more than usually interesting, and the other events on the day's programme are on such an attractive scale that the promoters count on a banner owner had been disappointed again and again in the final fittings of the craft until he decided to try her out at all hazards.

The up-to-date propeller wheel that was designed for speeding was not ready. Mr. Moore borrowed a spare propeller from the police boat Patrol, a whistle was also borrowed from one of the Perth Amboy Towing Company's tugs, and promptly at 2 o'clock the yacht steamed up to the Battery, where the owner and his guests were assembled.

Among the guests taken aboard were;

Jacob Hess, E. Burgess Warren, Col. Jacob Rup-pert, Jr., Chartes D. Mosher, O. J. Geer, Col. Harrisen B. Moore, Jr., Gen. O'Blerne, Col. William Worth, U. S. A.; Thomas J. and William Fielschmann.

She started from Pier A at 2:37 and went up the Hudson River at a lifteen-knot clip, Mr. Moore's intention being simply to show to his friends what the boat could do under natural draught and incidentally to furnish an opportunity to them of inspecting the luxurious fittings. The engines were working very loosely, as was expected, but otherwise the handsome craft was a picture that suggested sumptuous case.

away for the remainder of the summer.

The bouts of the South Beach A. C. will, in the future, be decided on Mouday tustead of Saturnay nights. Johnny Oats is now trying to arrange an attractive card for the club's next show. He is thinking of putting Eddle Curry against a good man. Police Superintendent McKelvey of Brooklyn has instructed Capt. Kenney that under no circumstances must John L Sullivan and Bob Pitzsimmons be permitted to engage in any kind of a glove contest at Ambrose Park on Monday. Even the erection of a boxing ring has been prohibited. boxing ring has been prohibited.

Dick Burge, who a few weeks ago declared that he would never eather the ring again as a participant, is considering the advisability of fighting once more. The Boilingbroke Athletic Club of London has offered a purse for Burge to meet Tom Causer some time in the fall, and Burge has sent a letter to the London Sporting Life that he will accept and meet Causer at any time to make a match.

According to a letter received by a well-known sporting man in this city there is every danger of boxing being stopped in San Francisco. Managers of clubs are lighting among themselves and there is a good deal of acrambling for dates. The authorities do not like to have the managers' grievances alred in his manner, and unless the quarrelling ceases they will close down on boxing for good.

Dr. Ornway of the National Sporting Club of Lonwill close down on boxing for good.

Dr. Octiway of the National Sporting Club of London has practically matched Joe hernstein to meet Ben Jordan before the famous English organization. Jordan and Bernstein will box twenty rounds at 122 pounds some time in Sentember. Jordan is regarded as quite clever, and is said to be a stiff pumher. Tommy White is also going abroad. Ordway wants Tommy to fight Dave Wallace, who is held in high esteem in London just now as being the best featherweight in England. White and Wallace will also box before the same club some time in October.

When off Grant's tomb a black squall was seen coming up over the hills at Fort Lee, and it was deemed advisable to run down the river in order to get away from the ugly-looking storm. She had not proceeded very far down the river before Mr. Meore discovered the Mary Powell, which for more than a decade has been the acknowledged champion of the river. At once his sporting instincts warmed up, and shouting to his Captain "Go for the Mary Powell," he turned to the engine room where Silas Styles slood with hand on the throttle.

"Start that blower and open her out," continued Moore. "I don't expect to beat the Powell, but we will see what she can do."

The yacht made a wide detour, and with broad bands of foam flying to either side and mingling with the saudding spindrift she started in her first race. Capt. C. D. Matheson, who was at the wheel, held her true on her course, while the troubled water was churned up into a mass of boiling foam that left a broad wake as far astern as the eye could reach. His raindrops began to fall and the wind increased to a hurricane, but the enthusiastic yachtsmen did not appear to notice this, their eyes being rooted on the sharp prow of the grand old boat as she came along, gaining slowly on the flying Marietta.

"Open her out wider!" sang out Moore, and with an increasing pressure of steam the Marietta held the side-wheeler and then forged slowly ahead. Faster and faster they sped along, but the race was ended right there and the yacht drew away, until after a distance of about two miles had been covered, when she turned to port and started for the Battery, a scream from her borrowed whistle sounding a final note of defiance as the passenger boad disappeared in the frame had been covered, when she turned to port and started for the Battery, a scream from her horrowed whistle sounding a final not Handball.

Admirers of handball are looking forward with growing interest to the big match scheduled to take place at the Brooklyn Club's court to-morrow. The principals are James Fitzgorald, champion of ireland, and William Carney, champion of the West. The latter arrived from Chicago vesterday in the pink of condition and with the odds strongly in his favor. In the opening games of the rubber played at Chicago Carney won six games out of seven. Two more would win out for him, as the match is "best of fitten games" for $100 a side. Pitzgeraid needs seven more games to win, but he will be much more at home in the Brooklyn court than he was out West, and he is expected to make a gallant up-hill fight.
